4. PHD SCHOLARSHIP

PhD Scholarships are intended to attract well-qualified New Zealand graduates into research pertinent to one of the departments supported by the Fund. Applicants would be an ADHB employee in one of the services represented by Trustees on the Fund (Cardiothoracic Surgery, Cardiothoracic Anaesthesia, Cardiology, Paediatric Cardiology & Surgery and Respiratory Medicine). Exceptionally the applicant may be a University of Auckland employee where the proposed research is part of a conjoint programme with one of the services represented by the Fund.

One scholarship may be awarded each year every 2 years out of 3. The Fund administrator will advise each year if the scholarship will be advertised. The scholarships are normally awarded for a total period of three years and must be taken up within 12 months of the award. Awarding of a scholarship does not imply research funding for the nominated projects comprising the PhD, although applicants are eligible to separately apply to the Fund for such projects which would be evaluated on merit independently from the PhD Scholarship.

Applicants for PhD Scholarships must provide a letter of support from their primary supervisor, as well as evidence of the steps taken to obtain a conditional place in an appropriate PhD programme.
